

Katie
Wood Ray

What You Know
by Heart

How to Develop Curriculum for Your Writing Workshop

MWSD CURRICULUM

Contents

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS	ix
INTRODUCTION	xi

Part One: Developing the Curriculum of Process

1 Write Like a Teacher of Writing	1
2 From Writing to Writing Curriculum	15
3 Getting Started Developing the Curriculum of Process	31
4 Looking Closely at Minilessons: Teaching from Our Own Writing	50
5 Letting Authors Co-Teach the Curriculum of Process	72

Part Two: Developing the Curriculum of Products

6 Read Like a Teacher of Writing	88
7 From Reading to Writing Curriculum	98
8 Getting Started Developing the Curriculum of Products	109
9 Looking Closely at Minilessons: Teaching from Texts	127
10 Letting Authors Co-Teach the Curriculum of Products	144

Using the Appendices	151
Appendix A
Just to Get a Feel for It: Ten Examples of Curriculum for General Approaches to Writing	153
Appendix B
Just to Get a Feel for It: Ten Examples of Curriculum for Structural Possibilities	157
Appendix C
Just to Get a Feel for It: Twenty Examples of Curriculum for Making the Language Work	163
Appendix D
Just to Get a Feel for It: Ten Examples of Curriculum Specific to Picture Books	173
Appendix E
What I Know About Writing from Knowing The Whales , by Heart	177
Appendix F
Sources for Essays, Feature Articles, Editorials, and Book Reviews	181
Index	183